

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 15 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Most staying dry and sunny for Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Much of Scotland will be dry with clear periods. Cloudier across the Northeast and Northern Isles with scattered showers continuing. Some fog patches appearing towards dawn. Light winds.

Thursday:
Showers in Northeast at first soon clearing away. Then much of Scotland will have a dry, bright day with sunny spells. Patchy rain and strengthening winds reaching West Coast later.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Rain over western Scotland on Friday, edging eastwards before clearing on Saturday. Some drier, brighter weather over the weekend but another band of rain reaching western areas during Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.